NOTICE

Sub: Dress Code, Mandatory ID Card and Appropriate Conduct for First-Year Students –Regarding.

Dear First Year Students,

As you begin your academic journey at Parala Maharaja Engineering College, you are warmly welcomed to the PMEC family. The first few weeks of college are an important period for learning, building friendships and understanding the values and traditions of the institution.

All newly joined First-Year B.Tech. Students are advised to maintain a proper, neat and decent dress code during class hours and other academic activities. As engineering students, you are expected to dress appropriately and maintain a dignified appearance befitting the academic environment of the institution.

Students are also advised to maintain mutual respect, courtesy and discipline in all interactions with their seniors, classmates, faculty members and staff. During any formal interaction with senior students, first-year students must behave respectfully and should not engage in any argument, misbehaviour, provocation or inappropriate conduct.

At the same time, no student should feel uncomfortable, threatened or harassed by anyone on the campus. If any first-year student faces any problem, difficulty, inappropriate behaviour or any concern related to senior students or otherwise, they are encouraged to approach the Dean, Students Welfare Office or the concerned Head of the Department immediately. Students may also report any concern through the established Anti-Ragging mechanism of the College.

Students are also mandatorily required to wear their College Identity Card at all times while inside the College campus, particularly during class hours and other academic activities. The ID card should be properly worn and made visible for identification and security purposes.

The College is committed to providing a safe, respectful, inclusive and friendly environment for every student. Students are therefore requested to maintain discipline, dignity and mutual respect and contribute positively to the academic atmosphere of PMEC.

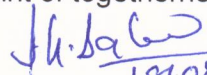

Let us begin this new journey with confidence, discipline, respect and a spirit of togetherness.
